How it is sold, and how to keep it

Every line on this list is marinated in-house, packed into sealed trays and boxes, and sold frozen. Nothing here is cut or weighed to order at the counter.

Keep frozen at or below –18°C. Thaw in the fridge overnight, not on the bench, and cook within 24 hours of thawing. All products are raw and must be cooked thoroughly before eating.

Marinades commonly contain soy, wheat, sesame and fish. Satay lines contain peanuts. Chạo tôm contains crustacea. Ask at the counter for the declaration on a specific line.

A box of 48 kebab sticks works out cheaper than four trays. Call ahead for anything over five kilos.
